BankWise Technology Partners with River Valley Community Bank to Enhance Alert System
Notification Alert System Integrates with Core Platform to Enhance Functionality

Saratoga Springs, NY -- BankWise Technology (BWT), a technology provider for financial institutions, announced its recent partnership with River Valley Community Bank in Yuba City, CA, to enhance its online banking alert system with near real-time (NRT) alerts for customers.

BankWise developed middleware integration software that seamlessly integrates with the bank's online banking platform and core system. This software leverages existing APIs of the core system to detect new transactions and uses the alerting interface of the digital banking platform to notify customers within minutes.

President and Chief Technology Officer of BankWise Technology, Sergei Morgoslepov: "Our near real-time alert integration middleware enables community banks like River Valley to offer their customers enhanced security and control, with transaction alerts delivered within minutes."

River Valley Community Bank Vice President/IT Manager, Lance Ethington noted that "At River Valley, we're always seeking innovative ways to enrich our customer experience via new products and services. We see the near real-time alerts service as both an enhancement to our online banking suite and another step to safeguard our customer accounts with instant notifications. Our partnership with BankWise Technology has enabled us to enhance our mobile banking alert service for our customers."
